

"WHERE ARE OUR DEAD?"

ORIG. Mss.

" Where Are Our Dead? " (A-17)

In the January number of the Cosmopolitan magazine ~~is an article by~~ is "An Authentic Interview with Conan Doyle from Beyond" by Harry Price, founder and director of the National Laboratory of Psychology

Research.

The subject matter of the ~~and~~ interview appeals to one's ~~judgment~~ ^{acceptance} of its reliability because it is so natural and true to facts in its descriptive character.
 Locating himself Doyle says, "I am within a slower system, but outside you Sympathetic system if I can geographically explain myself. I would like you to know my location - that I am in a nebulous belt lying outside the earth's surface and having life and being because it is of the same structure and matter as the earth itself. I am ⁱⁿ no doubt as to my geographical position."

This description by Conan Doyle of his ^{present} locality is stated from the standpoint of one who has always thought in ~~the terms of materiality~~ ~~time, space~~. Although he ardently espoused ~~the~~ Spiritualism he was not spiritual, which may be said of the majority of spiritualists, to be thoroughly convinced that persons who leave the body, continue to live in a body, ~~called~~ erroneously called spirit, is no proof that spirituality has been developed in the believer.

Never [^] does faith in a heaven in the [^] skies with god on a throne make one spiritual. The fact is that the [^] psychological world, in which Conan Doyle and all others who leave the body without ^{real} spiritual ~~development~~, exist, is not "a nebulous belt"

[A. 7] 7
surface, but an interpenetrating thought atmosphere identical with earth's atomic structure. When the psychical body separates from its fleshy envelope it does not go anywhere - it continues to function in and about the things in which it was an ¹ [A.8] 8 interest. ⁴ The majority of souls who ~~are~~ are ignorant of a future existence do not ^{at death} know that they have left the body, and they continue to try to express themselves as usual and are perplexed at the lack of response by those ^{still} ~~still~~ in the ~~world~~ ^{body}

The description which Conan Doyle gives of his present environment is the best it ~~has been~~ we have seen. He says, "When I say I am living in a world considerably like the one I have left, people will be surprised. I find myself doing many of the things which I desire ^[A-10] to (on earth). I find I am living in a world as dark as that I have left, more's the pity.

It's a country, where pain is forever ended; where emotion is borne a thousand times stronger; where inspirations reach one much easier.
I find myself in a bodily state.

It's a world in which the sinister world is still to be dealt with. This is neither heaven nor hell. It's a combination of both. Balance me, it's only the beginning.

I understand that it tends to confirm the theory of reincarnation and the soul goes through many phases.

12 It's really the substance or soul of me in bodily form. The scientists will disagree with me, but I am still material. I feel myself the man I was on earth."

Although Mahatma Gandhi was not a Christian in an orthodox sense he represents the present status of the followers of Jesus Christ, which is submission to the negative conditions of life. In this respect 2/ they are the servants of Satan.

Instead of resisting the negative conditions of life and overcoming them they submit without protest to sin, sickness and death, and give themselves up to 3/ these same evils and count them as inevitable or God ordained. When everything has been done humanly to defeat death, and without avail, the minister calmly announces that it was God's will that our beloved one passed away.

4/ This makes God responsible for death (84)

If payd's threatens to commit suicide ^{or separation} unless the two political factions in India were reconciled, In this respect he became one of the world's dictators.
He demanded that peace be established regardless of the points that caused the separation.

5/ Death is the world's greatest enemy - the last enemy to be overcome. Yet Gandhi used it as a club to force men to peace.
Every submission to death and dissease are submissions and concessions to Satan and represent the cowardice of man. We must face the facts of life

6/ and stand firmly for the truth of life that we know are in harmony with God's Law.

When tempted to follow the weak and beggarly promises of Satan we should declare the truth and proclaim with Jesus, "Get thee behind me Satan".

Jesus declared that he came

I not to bring peace but a sword,

This has puzzled those who have also read of the healing of the ear of the High Priest's servant's ear, which impaled was Peter but said that they did not understand the spirit of peace which he brought

8 / These seeming contradictions are caused by lack of discrimination between the spiritual, Christianity firmly adhered to with support by adverse states of mind, thus producing mental war, the final result will be peace.

One who undertakes truth does not meekly give up to error but stands, for truth declares it, regardless of consequences.
